1. DEFINITIONS

TEXTS

- printed texts (e.g. picturebooks, readers)
- digital texts (e.g. chats, website texts, videos)
- broad concept of texts (erweiterter Textbegriff)

Examples:

- poems

1. DEFINITIONS

MEDIA

- auditory
- visual
- audio-visual
- interactive

Examples:

- the teacher's voice
- blackboard
- textbook
- interactive whiteboard
- podcast
- ...

Definition (Evans, 2017):

[...] the vehicles, or stimuli, that convey a pedagogical message which is linguistic, cultural, literary or other. At a second level, the message is that the media shape our language teaching and language learning behaviour. Media are thus interpreted as textual, visual, or aural resources used for the didactic purpose of, for instance, teaching English as a foreign language.

7

2. IMPORTANCE OF LITERARY TEXTS

“waiting until language learners are old enough to include adult literature in the language-learning setting creates a delay in students' development in the literacy spectrum, affective and cognitive development, as well as intercultural learning, that may be difficult to reverse”
(Bland, 2018, p. 269)

Reasons: Texts can ...

- ✓ ... evoke a personal response, improve various skills, foster empathy, offer multiple perspectives, develop competences

- lesen und verstehen den Inhalt von sehr kurzen, einfachen und bildgestützten Lesetexten mit bekanntem Wortschatz und entnehmen ihnen wesentliche Aussagen.

Inhalte zu den Kompetenzen:

- Bilderbücher und einfache Kinderbücher
- Comics und bildgestützte Geschichten
- Einladungen, Geburtstagsgrüße

Sprechen

- erzählen Persönliches, indem sie listenhaft aufzählen, was sie über sich mitteilen möchten (z. B. I'm ..., I'm from ..., I have ..., I like ...).

2. IMPORTANCE OF LITERARY TEXTS

Features of well-crafted texts (Bland, 2013, p. 8)

Language features	Content features
• lexically dense	• appropriate to the schemata of children
• stylistic cohesion (lexical repetition, phonological patterns like rhythm and alliteration, melodic tricolon – rule of three)	• a challenge, widening of horizons
• supportive visual iconicity (images, typographic experimentation)	• enriching intertextuality
• aural iconicity (sound words)	• motivating allusions to the world of children

3. SELECTING PICTUREBOOKS

Example:

Julia Donaldson/Axel Scheffler: Room on the Broom (2001)

The witch and her cat fly happily over forests, rivers and mountains on their broomstick until a stormy wind blows away the witch's hat, bow and wand. They are retrieved by a dog, a bird and a frog, and each animal asks for a ride on the broom. They climb on, one after the next, until the broom is so heavy that it snaps in two! What will happen next as they tumble into a bog and meet a greedy dragon?

3. SELECTING PICTUREBOOKS

Example:

Eric Carle: Room The Very Busy Spider (1996)

Early one morning a little spider begins to spin her web on a fencepost. In this multi-sensory book, children can feel the pictures as well as see them, while they hear or read the easy rhythmic text. Alongside the visual excitement of Eric Carle's vibrant collages of familiar animals is the tactile experience of feeling the spider's web as it grows from a simple line into a complex and beautiful creation -a perfect story for reading aloud and sharing.
